Hiring Team

Senior React Developer Position

Dear Hiring Team,

I am excited to apply for the Senior React Developer position at your company. With over six years of experience building scalable front-end applications and three years of focused React development, I am confident I can make an immediate and meaningful contribution to your engineering team.

In my current role at a mid-sized SaaS company, I led the migration of our legacy jQuery codebase to a modern React and TypeScript architecture, reducing page load times by 40% and significantly improving developer productivity. I have hands-on experience with Redux, React Query, Jest, and React Testing Library, and I take pride in writing clean, well-documented, and thoroughly tested code.

Beyond technical skills, I bring strong communication and collaboration abilities that I believe are essential for a fully remote team. I have worked across time zones with engineers, designers, and product managers for the past four years, and I am comfortable driving technical discussions, conducting code reviews, and mentoring junior developers.

What excites me most about this opportunity is the scale of the product and the engineering culture you have described. I thrive in environments where I can take ownership, move fast, and see the direct impact of my work on real users. Your commitment to quality and your remote-first approach align perfectly with how I work best.

I would love the opportunity to discuss how my experience and skills align with your needs. Thank you for considering my application — I look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

Alex Johnson
